DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1 – 13, drawn to a flow-through assay device, classified in class 435, subclass 7.1.
- II. Claims 14 – 19, drawn to a flow-through assay device, classified in class 435, subclass 287.2.
- III. Claims 20 – 28, drawn to a method for detecting the presence or quantity of an analyte, classified in class 436, subclass 501.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are directed to related devices. The related inventions are distinct if the inventions as claimed do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants; and the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed have a different design and mode of operation.

Group I is a flow-through assay device requiring a first capture reagent that includes a first binding member complexed to a second binding member in the competitive zone, and a second capture reagent that is configured to bind to the detection probes or complexes thereof in the detection zone, which is not required by the device of Group II.

Group II is a flow-through assay device requiring optical detection probes conjugated with a first antibody specific for said analyte, a second antibody complexed to an antigen in the competitive zone, wherein said antigen is identical to or an analog of the analyte, and a third antibody contained in the detection zone that is configured to bind to the complexes formed between the analyte and the conjugated detection probes, which is not required by the device of Group I.

Inventions III and (I or II) are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another and materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case the apparatus as claimed in Groups I and II can be used to practice another and materially different process, such as filtration or separation.

Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, and because the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
